

THE ART OF FACILITATION

Begins November 1. Complete this eCourse on your own time, In any location that's convenient to you and earn CEUs.

It's been said that whatever the problem, community is the answer. This course is for people who know that community, that feeling of being and belonging, doesn't just happen. When intention and the skillful application of knowledge and methods in group facilitation are combined with people who deeply care and are committed to bringing their best for the world, community is made and change happens. This will help you develop your understanding and refine your facilitation skills to cultivate this artistry in convening groups.

By the end of this interactive 5-week, 12 hour eCourse, you will:

- Compare traditional and contemporary orientations to facilitation;
- Explain your personal facilitation "stance" grounded in your values, beliefs, and assumptions;
- Identify your current and "growing edge" facilitation competencies;
- Differentiate from among a range of interventions and protocols for several group dynamics;
- Apply ideas and insights to your current practice, describing the implications and impacts.

CE Credit: This eCourse qualifies for 12 Category A credits under the ACSW competence requirements. This eCourse is applicable to all social work categories. Other professionals: Contact your regulatory board to determine course approval. A Certificate of Completion will be awarded within 30 days of successful completion of the discussion questions, post-test and course evaluation.

How It Works: On a weekly basis, you'll be reading, viewing the weekly "Core Lesson" videos, engaging in personal reflection and online focused conversation, and discussing the implications for this program for your practice. You can expect make a 2-3 hour commitment per week.

Post Test & Evaluation: The post-test is open book and you have three chances to succeed. Access to the post-test will be made available upon registration. You must obtain 70% to pass.
